DEBATE OVER AIR POLICY IS STILL YOUNG

Resignation of Mitchell from Army Marks Starting of Real Arguments

WILL TALK FREELY

Can Further Cause for Great-

Without Restriction

Washington—Acceptance of the resignation of Colonel Mitchell from the United States army may be looked upon as the end of a ticklish controversy
so far as official action with respect
to one individual is concerned but it marks the beginning of a real debate
on the subject of America's aviation policy.

Friends of the aviation cause have been embarrassed hitherto because if they sided with Colonel Mitchell they would appear to be condoning the method by which he expounded his views. The consensus of opinion among persons inside and outside the army who want to see aviation developed is that Colonel Mitchell was indiscreet in his method but that his objective, namely, to attract attention to aviation, was laudable.

Having been sentenced for breach of army discipline and now having resigned entirely from official relationship with the government, Colonel Mitchell is in a position to fight for aviation with all the freedom of speech necessary for that purpose. It is believed some national organization outside of the government is to be formed
which will embody all the different aviation bodies in the hope of crystallizing the opinion of the country on aviation.

JEALOUSIES INTERFERE

Inter-service jealousies, of course,
have impeded the progress of aviation
to some extent but the commission appointed by President Coolidge and headed by Dwight P. Morrow has outlined a policy which gives aviation a special status. This much has been accomplished and legislation looking to the fulfillment of the recommendations of the Morrow report is pending in Congress.

Colonel Mitchell goes out of the army not without poignant regret. He has been in it through the greatest war in history, served on the western front and was decorated for distinguished service.

It seems only yesterday when this correspondent sat in a dingy office in the war department in 1914 talking with the then Lieutenant Mitchell
when the whole aviation section of the signal corps consisted of only a few officers and clerks.

Impatient, even then, energetic and anxious to pioneer in directions which his superiors thought too elaborate, Lieutenant Mitchell began a drive for aviation which reached a climax when he commanded the American battle squadrons under General Pershing in the operation of the American sector in France. He came back with a sense of the importance of aviation and like a good many officers who went overseas displayed a bit of impatience
with those who had not seen
fighting conditions and were still disposed to view things from an academic standpoint.

He was a stormy petrel in every sense of the word and the truth of the matter is Billy Mitchell stirred up so much trouble that the general staff
is better satisfied to have him outside than inside the army. His methods were blunt and direct. This would have been all right in congress, for example, or on the stump but in an army when discipline is paramount, it caused embarrassment.

plete and exonerated of the faculty of

MAN IS BURNED TO DEATH WHEN HE FILLS LAMP

Baraboo—(AP)—Louis Noble, 40, a laborer employed by the American refractory company near Devils Lake,
was burned to death Sunday night
when he attempted to refill a lighted
kerosene table lamp in the living room
of his home near the refractory company's plant, four miles south of here.
Mrs. Noble widow of the accident victim and John Brescio, 35, her brother,
were severely burned in the blast.

RESCUE CREW OF STEAMER ON ATLANTIC

20 Officers and Men Are Taken from Dutch Freighter Alkaid

New York—(AP)—The crew of the Dutch freighter Alkaid, disabled by the storm about 1,000 miles east of Newfoundland, was rescued Monday by the Hamburg American liner Westphalia. The crew consisted of about 20 men and officers.

A radio from Captain Carl Graafla
of the Westphalia informed officials of the Hamburg American line of the rescue.

"Crew of Alkaid taken aboard,"
said the message. "All well. To proceed to New York."

The Alkaid, bound from Rotterdam to Philadelphia, Monday, was the latest merchant ship disabled by seasonal gales sweeping the Atlantic ocean for the past week with heavy loss of life and property.

Newfoundland—The Dutch ship
carries a crew of about 20 men and officers. She was the third merchant vessel since Sunday a week ago to seek help from passenger steamers.
Six men were rescued from the Laris-land by the liner Bremen before the freighter foundered with 25 seamen.
While all of the Antine's crew of 25
were rescued by the President Roosevelt a few days ago.

A wireless despatch to the department of marine and fisheries at Washington from the steamer Nautica reported a call for assistance from the steamer Johanne Dybvaad bound from Barry England for Boston. The message said the Dybvaad was "badly
smashed" and in need of help.

A rum boat went ashore near Delaware breakwater with 40 five gallon cans of alcohol on board. Its crew was believed to have been lost at sea.

BROKEN PROPELLER CAUSES FLIERS' DESCENT

Pernambuco, Brazil—(AP)—It was disclosed Monday the Spanish trans-Atlantic fliers were threatened with disaster near the end of their brief hop
from Fernando Do Noronha to this city Sunday.

The information became public
when the Spanish consulate sent a communication to the newspapers explaining that Commander Franco and his crew came down on the water
without first flying over the city because, when near Recife, a part of the propellers broke.

The fliers found it necessary to throw overboard all clothing and tools
to lighten the plane.

With more than half of their voyage from Pales, Spain, to Buenos Aires
already behind them, Commander Franco and his two companions in the seaplane Plus Ultra are expected
Tuesday to resume their flight toward Rio Janeiro, 1,264 miles distant.

RUSSIA WILL SELL JEWELS FOR TRACTORS

Diamond Experts Bid for Parts of Valuable Art
Treasures

Moscow—(AP)—It is the purpose of the Soviet government to transform the gorgeous crown jewels of imperial Russia into American made tractors, machinery and plows. The average estimate of the value of the jewels of Peter the Great, Empress Elizabeth, Catherine the Great and other monarchs down to the late Nicholas II is $264,000,000 or about $50,000,000 more than the debt owing
by Russia to the United States.

"These magnificent jewels," said
a high official, "were bought by Russia's former tyrants with the sweat, tear and blood of our peasants. It is now our desire to give them back to the peasants in the form of implements for tilling the soil or machinery for industries. We want to turn the glitter of our 25,000 diamonds
into the glitter of American steel."

BID FOR TREASURES

The art treasures in the Soviet museums, some of them by Rubens, Rembrandt, Van Dyke and Raphael,
have an estimated value of $1,000,000.
The Soviet, however, is determined
not to barter the artistic treasures.
Rudolph Obatt of New York, is among 10 or more foreign diamond experts who are bidding for parts of the jewels collection which the government has decided to sell in separate lots. No tender for less than $5,000,000 worth of gems will be accepted. Mr. Obatt, who was the diamond expert for the late "Diamond Jim" Brady of New York, characterizes the collection as beautiful beyond description. It is his idea that the Soviet government realizes that all the diamond firms of Amsterdam, London, Paris and New York combined would be unable to purchase
the collection and therefore it is willing to dispose of it in small lots
to the highest bidders.

RELATES DUKE'S DEATH

Simultaneously with the announcement that crown jewels are for sale,
comes what is declared to be an authentic account of the death of Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovitch, who by inheritance was emperor of Russia
for a few hours when his brother, Emperor Nicholas, abdicated in March, 1917.

"The last days of the Romanoffs,"
a new book written by B. P. M.
Bikov, president the Ural Soviet in Ekaterinburg when Emperor Nicholas
and the members of the imperial household were killed, tells of how five men, "workers in a Ural iron foundry, using false credentials,
seized Michael at a hotel in Perm
where he and his English secretary, M. Johnson, were being held by the bolsheviks. The Grand Duke was taken into the woods on the night of July 12, 1918 and killed. The fate of Johnson is not related in the book.

With reference to the murder of Emperor Nicholas and his family and the burning of their bodies, Bikov
says, "This was done in fear that superstitious peasants might venerate the bones as holy relics if the bodies
were allowed to remain intact."

YARDMASTER KILLED AS FOOT CATCHES IN FROG

Milwaukee—(AP)—Fred Hansen, a yardmaster employed by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, was killed Monday when his foot was caught in a switch frog in the local yards. A heavy fog prevented a switch engine crew from seeing the man before he was run down.

tion he is an infidel, and says he can-

SAYS LACK OF REVERENCE IS CRIME CAUSE

N. U. Man Charges That
"Greenhorns" Are at Head
of Political System

Madison—(AP)—Our Government is a government by greenhorns due to our political system and our feverish
and dissatisfied democracy, our lack of reverence and religion is the cause of crime, said Judge Andrew A. Bruce of Northwestern University law school before the Noon Day club of Madison Monday.

"The curse of the American administration of the criminal law is our system of politics, our spoils system,
the fact that the underworld has a vote as well as the upper world, and above all the short tenure of office
of all of our public officials," he declared.

"Our government, to a large extent is a government by greenhorns. Our frequent elections, and the necessity of begging for votes, makes our politically elected and controlled police officers and magistrates unwilling to enforce the law and they are looked upon as servants and inferiors, and not as the agents of a superior government."

TOO MUCH LAWLESSNESS

"Our boys and girls grow up in an atmosphere of license and all of us
are parties to the lawlessness that is among us—we are willing to prosecute
the tramp or stranger, but we need
the business, friendship or political support of our neighbors. We talk about the virtue of obedience to the law and at the same time patronize our private bootleggers."

RELIGION LACKING

Reforms should be made in the criminal law, he believed, but the trouble was due to "our lack of religion and reverence, to our cosmopolitan citizenship, to the unavailable friction of diverse races; to the breaking down of the home; to the fact that we import and use more narcotic drugs than any other nation
and to our feverish and dissatisfied democracy."

"Eighty per cent our crime is committed by young men and women," said Judge Bruce "yet we ourselves are to blame. We ask them to respect the law, but we put them in office and then for political purposes
we lampoon those we ask them to revere. We depict ex-president Cleveland as overgrown and obese and ex-president Roosevelt as a battery of teeth. Our newspaper tells us that
"Hal and Al have just seen Cal."

"We headline crime everywhere in our newspapers and picture it in our playhouses and our theaters. We have made it a familiar thing. We have been living in an automobile age in an age of social display. Parents have set the pace and their boys and girls have followed them. Money talks and everyone is after the money.
"Please is the end. In the mad search for pleasure, for glory is an incident and theft is common. In the movies our young people are shown
the glitter of the cabarets and of the dancing house and of the gambling palace. In the movies they are taught how to steal.

WALSH WANTS SENATE PROBE OF ALUMINUM

Recommends Investigation in Report to Judiciary Committee

Washington—(AP)—Senate investigation of the Aluminum Co. of America
in which Secretary Mellon is a large stockholder, is recommended in a report submitted Monday to the judiciary committee by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana.

This is proposed, the senator says,
because of "doubts aroused as to the honor and good faith of the department of justice" in the conduct of its inquiry to establish whether the Aluminum Co. has violated a federal court consent decree entered against it in 1912. Besides recommending what would be a third government investigation of the Mellon Company with in four years, Senator Walsh asks that the senate direct the federal trade commission to turn over to it
all of the evidence furnished by the Aluminum concern and which the commission withheld from the justice department on the ground that it is "confidential."

Describing this action of the commission as "senseless," Senator Walsh takes the position that since the senate ordered the commission to make the investigation in the first instance it can compel production of the evidence.

Attorney General Sargent and other officials of the justice department
are sharply assailed by Senator Walsh for the manner in which the inquiry was prosecuted after the trade commission had reported to the department in October, 1925, that the Aluminum Co. had violated the consent decree.

Calling attention to evidence adduced at the judiciary committee hearing on the subject showed that months elapsed before any move was made. The senator declares that had the department moved with celerity
it could have obtained the "confidential" evidence subsequently withheld
from it.

SOUTH BEND SUFFERS $1,500,000 FIRE LOSS

South Bend, Ind.—(AP)—Fire in the business district here Monday destroyed nine retail establishments,
causing a loss estimated at $1,200,000.
While the downtown fire was burning
a blaze destroyed the Standard Oil Co.
office building in the southeast section
of the city with a loss of $300,000.

John Deerechewer, captain of a fire company, was killed when blinded
by smoke, he fell from a building.
Two other firemen were injured.

The origin of the downtown fire,
which was discovered at 2 A. M., is unknown. Sparks carried by a high wind are believed to have set fire to the Standard Oil building.

MAN CAUGHT IN FENCE FREEZES TO DEATH

Racine—(AP)—Myron Jacobs, 72,
missing from his home since last Tuesday, was found frozen to death
on a farm near the city. The body was hanging from a barbed wire fence, the man's trousers leg having caught on the barbs as he was attempting to climb through. He evidently became exhausted in trying to extricate himself.

cago sanitary district and Illinois in operation of the suit brought by Wisconsin,

MODERATE COLD WAVE PROMISED MONDAY NIGHT

Milwaukee—(AP)—Mild weather
which has continued for several days
will give way to a moderate cold wave
Monday night, the weather bureau announced. Tuesday morning will be clear and cold with the mercury about 10 above zero, if the prediction comes true. Monday creeks throughout the southern half of the state are running nearly bank high, due to the three days thaw.

TRAINMEN GET WAGE DEMANDS BEFORE ROADS

Railroads Have Until March
2 to Give Answer to Employees

New York—(AP)—Eastern railroads
Monday received demands for increased pay for trainmen and conductors and were given until March 2 to make their answer. The increase demanded amounts to about $1 a day.

The demands were contained in joint letters from the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railroad Conductors. Each railroad received an individual letter and was asked to make an individual reply to the demands.

AS 1/2 communications were concerned almost entirely with wage matters,
with only minor changes in working conditions being requested.

Granting of the requested increases
would restore the wage scales fixed by the railway labor board in 1920,
the highest wage scales in the history of the railroads. When it became known last week that trainmen and conductors were preparing to make the demands, spokesmen for the railroads said such restoration would increase the total annual expenses of the companies by $500,000.

DEMANDS ARE MANY

The United States Railroad labor
board had before it Monday approximately 70 applications for increased wages or revision of rules, while the train service brotherhood filed with individual railroads requests for increases.

Railroad officials said the increase asked by trainmen and conductors in some cases exceeded the peak of wages of 1920.

Officials of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad were informed by train service employees who filed demands that the same demands were being made simultaneously upon all roads of the country.

The rates asked according to railway officials in the case of passenger conductors exceed the highest rates
for such service awarded by the interior board by about $20 a month. Officials said that the rates paid on the Northwestern were about $8 under the 1920 wages and that the employees asked rates involving about $20 increase in passenger service.

They said that passenger brakemen
now received a guarantee of $150 a month and $180 was asked. The 1920 passenger conductor rate, according to railway managements,
was approximately $210 and the men
asked for approximately $230.

QUESTION MAN CONVICTED OF BEATING WIFE

Woman Gives Incriminating
Evidence Against Husband, Ewald Miller

CLOTHES EXAMINED

Racine District Attorney Will Investigate Wife's Story

Kenosha—Mrs. Rose Miller, wife of Ewald Miller, who is held in custody
here as a suspect in connection with the murder of Jimmie Sears and Madeline Latimer on the night of Oct.
11, 1925, gave a statement to District Attorney Lewis Powell Monday which described Miller's actions following the murder.

According to this statement, made in the presence of Coroner Joseph Friend, Chief of Police Thad W. Lozan, and the district attorney, Miller
came home on the night of the killings at 2 a. m. in his automobile. He went to work at 7 o'clock the next morning, Mrs. Miller said, and came home at 8:30 o'clock the same morning. He told her that a man and a woman had been killed in Kenosha the night before and that their bodies
were placed in a ditch and covered with hay.

Coroner Friend pointed out that the blood splattered car was not discovered until 11 o'clock that morning and that the bodies were not located until after 11 o'clock.

BURNED HIS TROUSERS

Mrs. Miller also said that her husband never used his car but once after the killings, and this was on the following Sunday when he drove her
over to the scene of the crime,
even showing her where the slayer
washed his hands under a bridge
about a mile north of the scene of the crime.

Miller also burned a good pair of pants the next day, she said. She noticed that his shoes had dark
spots at the same time, she said.
Kenosha police have a pair of Miller's overalls and his hat on which they found what they believe to be spots of blood. These are being tested by the city chemist. After the statement was made by Mrs. Miller, the district attorney declared that he would go to Racine to investigate the story given by Mrs. Miller. This afternoon also detectives will question
Miller further in an attempt to get an admission from him.

MITCHELL'S ARMY CAREER ENDS MONDAY

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—The army career of William Mitchell ended
Monday. It was brought to a conclusion by a formal notification from the war department that his resignation
from the army had been accepted by direction of President Coolidge.

The acceptance automatically cancelled the sentence of five years suspension from rank, command and duty in the army imposed on the former air officer by the court martial
which held him guilty of insubordination.

Mitchell had expected to reopen
Monday the fight on administration
air policies, which led to his trial, believing that his resignation would be effective as of midnight, Jan. 30, but delay on the war department's part in notifying him of the acceptance caused a change in his plans. His first attack as a civilian on aviation defense will be launched late Monday
in the form of statement for publication in the morning papers of Tuesday.

Taxicab Careens About Chicago With Lunatic

Chicago—(AP)—A taxicab careened crazily about Chicago streets for hours Sunday night carrying a frightened chauffeur, a demented
man who constantly urged him on
with a pistol, and the chauffeur's 8-year-old son, who bounced inside the cab, saving desperately on a violin
under the madman's compulsion.
The weird taxi scene was only one in a 10 hour rampage through Chicago and Berwyn, in which E. H.
Sackett, 52, a Kansas City, Mo., mining engineer, fought a pistol battle
with Berwyn police, frightened patients and attendants in a hospital
and finally, after a $27 unpaid taxi
ride, was quietly arrested at the Tinton station.

Sackett, head of the Utilities Mfg.
Corporation of Kansas City, came
to Chicago a week ago on business, followed later by his wife who became alarmed at the messages he telegraphed to her. Receiving word
at his hotel that his wife was at the home of her sister in Berwyn a suburb, Sackett telephoned that he would drive out shortly. First he called at the home of A. E. Scheyer, a chauffeur.

There he heard the chauffeur's son play the violin, and insisted the youth accompany them. Arriving in Berwyn, his relatives decided to subject him to a psychopathic examination and persuaded him to reenter
the cab and go to a hospital.

Sackett submitted quietly to the examination until two policemen summoned by telephone, arrived. In the fight that followed, one of Sack-ett's fingers was shot away, but he escaped to the cab and compelled Scheyer to drive him away.

The youth, finally wearied from the ordeal, was dropped in front of the Scheyer home, but the ride went on. Later Sackett flung himself out of the car and vanished among crowds near the Union station. From the station Sackett telephoned to his wife, and his arrest soon followed.

JURY SAYS LOT WAS DIVIDED ON ACREAGE BASIS

Wisconsin-ave Neighbors in Legal Dispute Over Boundary Between Properties

Whether a fence or a line should be the determining factor in the division of property was the issue which was submitted to a jury in municipal court this week in the case of H. H. Brockhaus vs. Ambrose D. Weisgerber.

After more than an hour deliberation the jury in a special verdict found for Mr. Weisgerber whose claim one-half of the property was on the basis of acreage rather than frontage. The legal battle lasted only two days.

Each man owns one-half of a lot on E. Wisconsin-ave the rear of which is bordered by a ravine and a railroad. Brockhaus claimed that the west 15 feet of the land was being held illegally by the defendant, his neighbor on the west, and demanded the land and $100 damages.

Had the two lots been rectangular, no dispute would have arisen over the division. But since the rear of the lots is cut off diagonally by the railroad right-of-way, division by frontage and division by acreage would not be the same. In the former case one lot would be deeper than the other and in the latter case one would be wider than the other. The jury, however, found that acreage was the determining factor in the equal division of the lots at the time of the same and that the line as fixed two and a half years ago by Frank M. Charlesworth, E. former county surveyor, was the dividing line by acreage.

AGREE ON LINE

Weisgerber declared that he owned the west-half of the lot which includes the disputed territory and that he had acquired it through transfer more than two years ago. At that time Brockhaus was occupying the other half. Brockhaus and he agreed on the boundary at that time and he had erected a line fence. Weisgerber alleged the fence still is there and is east of the 15 feet which Brockhaus claims. The Brockhaus lot is deeper than Weisgerber's.

Questions contained in the special verdict and answers given by the jury follow:

Was the plaintiff at the time of the commencement of the action owner of and entitled to the possession of the east one-half of Block 50 of the First ward and the equal division of frontage on Second-ave now known as Wisconsin-ave? Answer—No.

If the above question is answered Yes, what were the damages suffered by the plaintiff by reason of the defendant occupying the land for the last two and one-half years? Answer—Yes.

Were the defendants at the time of the commencement of the action owners of and entitled to possession of one-half the acreage of Block 50? Answer—Yes.

If the last question is answered Yes, then is the line as fixed by Mr. Charlesworth two and one-half years ago the dividing line in acreage of block 50? Answer—Yes.

DEVISE SCORING FOR CLUB CONTEST

Boys Compete as Individuals and as Clubs for Cups and Banners

A point system for clubs of the boys division of the Y. M. C. A. which are participating in the Inter-club Activities Contest has been worked out by the division council and John W. Pugh, boys' work secretary. The interclub contest is being tried this year in the place of the Hustler program of former years. Eight clubs—H. Y. Triangle, Cardinal Newsies, Baptist Pioneers, Blackhawks, Vocational Y, and Junior Pioneers will compete for honors. Each boy will be given a score card on which will be placed his name, club, address, and phone number, to record points.

Rules of the contest follow: Any club member absent from a regular meeting without a good excuse loses all points made during the week. All club reports must be in the hands of the boys' work secretary by Saturday evening of the club loses all points made during the week. Points are awarded on a percentage basis, the total number of points scored, divided by the number of members in the club, being the club's score. The club receiving the most points will be given a silver loving cup and second and third clubs will receive banners. High member of each club will be elected to the "C" club of association honor boys. Some items on the programs must have the approval of the club leader, physical directors or boys' work secretary before the individual boy is allowed to try them. Some boys may be unfit for certain contests. Mr. Pugh said.

The point score card follows: Attend Sunday school weekly, 5 points; attend church weekly, 5 points; attend Sunday meeting, 5 points; take part in club Bible study, 5 points; daily devotions, each day, 1 point; service to church, 10 points; service to home, 10 points; service to school, 10 points; service to club, 10 points.

Get someone to start Sunday school, 10 points; new member for the club, 5 points; new member for the Y. M. C. A., 10 points; world brotherhood contribution, at least $1. 10 points; attend an educational trip, 10 points; write up an educational trip, 10 points; attend nature study, talk, hike, etc., 10 points.

Take part in Sunday meeting other than singing, 10 points; read a good magazine monthly, 5 points; read an assigned book and report, 10 points; school average, 85 per cent, 10 points; 95 per cent, 20 points; attend hobby club or meeting, 5 points; gym at attendance, each time, 5 points; participate in hexathlon, for each 18 point scored, 5 points; participate in pentathlon, for each 100 points scored, 5 points; participate in interclub athletics, 5 points; winners of interclub athletics, first 20 points, second, 10 points, third, 5 points.

The program is expected to develop the boys four square in athletics, studies, religion and socially. The motto of the work is clean speech—clean sport—clean living—clean scholarship.

CHILDRENS' NIGHT COUGHS STOPPED AT ONCE

At last children's night coughing spells can be quickly and safely checked at once with one swallow of a new prescription called Thoxine. It is like mere cough mixtures. REALTORS SEE HUGE SUMMER RESORT BOOM

Expect Land 'o Lakes Movement Will Be Pushed Hard In Coming Season

The Florida real estate and the Wisconsin Land 'o Lakes booms were discussed at length at the annual meeting of the Appleton Real Estate Brokers board at the Conway hotel Saturday afternoon. The meeting was addressed by Perry C. Howell, executive secretary of the Wisconsin Real Estate Brokers board.

After an uninvolved discussion of about three hours, the real estate agents adjourned subject to call of the president for another meeting to be held the latter part of this week when officers will be elected.

It was brought out that the Florida boom has had a good effect on Wisconsin real estate business in this respect: It has created more of a desire among Wisconsin people for vacations and for recreational resorts at which to spend them.

The real estate men were of the opinion that the Land 'o Lakes movement has bigger prospects this year than ever before. No fewer than six large real estate interests have purchased substantial areas of lake front property for development and sale by lots. Some of them are building cottages and homes for sale to recreation seekers. Several of the firms are also laying out fine golf courses as an added attraction. Among the latter is H. D. Stone & Co., Chicago, which has purchased a large tract at Green Lake from the estate of Victor E. Lawson, late editor of the Chicago Daily News. The firm will lay out an 18-hole golf course, build and sell highly restricted homes and erect a 300-room hotel. The entire project will cost in the neighborhood of $2,000,000. It was planned out.

Thibaud Will Meet Warm Friends At Concert Here

Jacques Thibaud, the international famous violinist, will make his second appearance at Lawrence chapel Monday evening, Feb. 8, under the auspices of the Community Artist series. Three years ago when Mr. Thibaud visited Appleton, he firmly established himself in the affections of music lovers here, as he has done in the great music centers of the world since his debut in Paris. During this American tour he will appear with the New York Philharmonic, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Minneapolis and Cleveland Symphony orchestras as well as in recital in other large cities in the country.

Producing a tone that is pure, lovely, and unrivaled among representatives of the French school, Thibaud has a caressing style peculiarly his own. His repertoire embraces practically the entire scope of violin literature. Thibaud's stage presence has an elegance and dignity so impressing that it is unforgettable after seeing the great violinist.

Thibaud was born in Bordeaux in 1890. Studying first with his father and then at the Paris Conservatoire, he gained a premier prix under Maréchal. His first Parisian appearances were with the Colonne orchestra, and as soloist with this organization he gained recognition throughout Europe and England. Since 1903, when Thibaud first toured America, he has been a regular visitor to the large cities of the country, except during the war.

Since his first tour through America Thibaud's standing in the musical world has been steadily enhanced and today he is accorded a place among the foremost of contemporary violinists. For some time he is now the possessor of an even finer instrument, a rare Stradivarius, once the property of Baillet.

DRIVER HURLED OVER FENCE AS CARS COLLIDE

Mother Is Injured About Head but Baby, Buried in Wreckage, Is Unhurt

Mrs. Leonard Brantmeier, Sherwood, suffered a severe gash in her head Sunday evening when a car crashed head-on into the automobile in which she was riding and turned it over in the ditch on Highway 114 near Waverly Beach. Mrs. Brantmeier, with her husband and infant son, Verno, was returning home from Menasha when the accident occurred.

Mr. Brantmeier, who was driving the car was thrown over a fence into a field but was unhurt. The baby was found unhurt in the overturned car.

Mr. Brantmeier saw a car approaching in the distance and stopped on the side of the road to allow it to pass, as the highway was narrow, and coated with ice and snow. The other driver, whose name could not be learned, apparently did not see the car and crashed into it. Mrs. Brantmeier was taken to Theda Clark hospital at Neenah. Nine stitches were necessary to close the wound in her head. The Brantmeier car was badly damaged. The driver of the other car stopped and rendered assistance he could.

COURT ORDERS TRUANTS TO GO BACK TO SCHOOL

Seven Children Arraigned before Judge Heinemann for "Playing Hookey"

Seven Appleton school children, five boys and two girls were arraigned Thursday afternoon before Judge Fred V. Heinemann in juvenile court on charges of truancy brought by J. G. Pfeil, city truant officer. All the cases were held open pending the future behavior of the offenders. All of the children were of the age subjecting them to the half-time attendance rule. They were ordered by Judge Heinemann to return to school and make up the lost time upon penalty of being haled into court and subjected to more stringent orders.

Commitment to the state industrial schools, or parole to the supervision of people other than the pupils' parents, is possible in violation of this kind.

In none of the cases were the parents too poor to keep their children in school, it was pointed out. One of the parents claimed ignorance of the child's habits. Others said sickness in the family required the presence of the children at home. Several of them were satisfied to have their children

BOARD MEETS TO STUDY J. H. S. CURRICULUM

A course of study for the Junior High schools will be presented and discussed at a meeting of the board of education called for Tuesday, Feb. 2 at the office of Ben J. Rohan, superintendent of schools. Routine business also will be considered.

brought before the judge as they felt that lecture from the court would do more good than the warnings of parents. The various excuses were overruled and the parents were warned that they must be responsible for the attendance of their children at school. The pupils will now have to attend full time until the half-time attendance in which they are in arrears has been made up.

PRUDENTIAL AGENTS AT DISTRICT MEETING

Henry E. Kretschmann, assistant superintendent at the Appleton office of the Prudential Life Insurance Co. of America, and eight agents of the local office attended a meeting of assistant superintendents and agents of the Oshkosh district Friday afternoon at Oshkosh. B. Harvey Harris, and Everett Van Vorst, manager and assistant manager of Division 2 comprising the states of Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota, were in attendance from Newark, N. J., the home office, and talked on the business done by the concern during the last year, and on the outlook for 1926. Each predicted a greater volume of business, during the current year. About 60 attended the meeting.

STABILIZING PETROLEUM

Seventy-three petroleum-producing companies, being less than one-half of one per cent of all producing concerns, do sixty per cent of the business in the United States. A movement is under way to bring about more consolidations among operating corporations, with the idea of stabilizing price and production and conserving resources. Incidentally, the oil men are perfecting plans to compete with anthracite coal operators, as industrial interests signify that they are tiring of the anthracite monopoly, as well as periodical disputes between capital and labor.
If consolidation can be carried far, it will be possible, in a practical way, to form monopoly in petroleum production. A few, or a comparatively few, operating concerns could, and probably would, regulate output to demand, more wisely than at present prevails. While the companies thus would be almost able to fix the prices, on the other hand one result would be to conserve the supply of fuel.

Existing laws tend to disorganize this industry every once in a while, and also to cause large waste. Further consolidation will put fifty, more or less, large companies in a position to prevent demoralization and waste. Of course, the prices of petroleum and its products would be controlled by demand, and the volume would be determined considerable by prices, for prices would have to be so adjusted as to bring in the largest obtainable net profits.

Prospective new fields are being tested quietly in the far Southwest, and it is not improbable that new wells will be opened. Furthermore, there is scarcely a doubt that chemistry will ultimately be applied to extracting oil from animal and vegetable matter. We are reasonably certain that the demand for petroleum never will be less than at present, or the supply relatively greater. We cannot afford to pay excessive prices or to allow continued waste.

A PRACTICAL FOUNDATION

The Daniel Guggenheim Fund for the Promotion of Aeronautics, being a foundation of $2,500,000 created by Mr. Daniel Guggenheim, is a public philanthropy which should be of great practical value. In presenting the money to the nation, and granting the board of trustees free rein in the application of it, Mr. Guggenheim stated that he had no purpose of establishing a permanent institution with a permanent endowment, although he hinted of his intention to contribute more of his vast wealth to the development of aeronautics. "The thought is, rather," he said "that the whole art or science of aeronautics and aviation being now in their infancy, it will be possible with the sum thus contributed to bring about such an advance in the art that private enterprise will find it practicable and profitable to 'carry on' and thus render a continuous and permanent endowment for this purpose unnecessary."

Notwithstanding the commercial and political possibilities of aviation, it is quite plain that sufficient progress has not been made. It is the opinion of business men and the people, at least if it is not of technical experts, that we have not shown much initiative in recent years in fostering aviation. The best experiments probably have been made by the Post Office Department.

The principal governments of Europe are encouraging aeronautics and aviation by subsidizing transportation companies. Our national policy is definitely opposed to subsidies, especially since the close of the war. And it is doubtful whether such large results in progress and improvement would be realized through the subsidy plan as through Mr. Guggenheim's one of financial assistance for study, investigation and experimentation, with the object of showing the way to private capital, and, incidentally to the government.

So far technicians are not agreed as to whether the heavier-than-air craft are better than the lighter-than-air, or whether each has its field. By this time, it would seem, the most important principle connected with aeronautics should be definitely settled.

Engineers have not determined whether the lighter-than-air craft are more adaptable, from every standpoint, to commercial uses than the heavier-than-air, or vice versa. Were Mr. Guggenheim's contribution to do no more than indicate conclusions along these lines, it would be invested to good purpose and result.

Private capital is not inclined to speculate in aviation or aeronautics in these prosperous times, when it can be increased into more capital at a minimum of risk and a maximum certainty of profit. But private capital will manifest genuine interest in aerial transportation as soon as doubts are removed. Mr. Guggenheim's gift shows a commendable public spirit in a hitherto neglected field.

FORD'S PALACE OF THE AIR

Henry Ford, manufacturer of the most-joked-of automobile, but the most generally bought and used, will make the largest airship ever constructed. The Ford vessel of the air will be two and one-half times larger than the Shenandoah, and will be fire-proof, lightning-proof and weather-proof. The ship will be metal-clad.

We look on Mr. Ford as an industrialist who can realize any dream in his factories. He has the capital and the daring, and his past success fills us with faith in his ability. When he announces that his airship will be the largest dirigible ever built, we believe that he will do what he says, and when he plans it to be weather-proof, fire-proof and lightning-proof, we are confident that it will be so.

Experimentation must be continued with airships. Perhaps a serviceable lighter-than-air craft will be developed. But we are eager to hear of Mr. Ford's plans regarding the plan. Mr. Ford may build the real aircraft of the future. He has the capital, the determination, the resourcefulness, the talent, the facilities; the experience to solve the newest problem, that of aerial transportation. He is by all odds America's greatest industrialist.

QUIBBLING OVER WASHINGTON

Did George Washington drink and dance in a way not usually credited to the father of his country?

That is the question that is being battled back and forth in the United States just now.

Rupert Hughes, novelist, started the discussion by asserting that Washington was a good drinker and a confirmed dancer.

The argument was continued when various professional patriots leaped to the fore with vitriolic denials that any such thing was the case.

And the whole argument is so silly! Silly of Mr. Hughes to begin it, in the first place; sillier for his opponents to get so excited in their denials.

For, after all, what difference does it make whether Washington drank and danced or not?

One thing is certain; if he did drink whisky, on occasion, he hasn't done it for upwards of 125 years. That length of time is pretty nearly long enough for a man's private habits, whatever they might be, to win forgetfulness.

We all know the really important things that Washington did. They are things that there can't be any argument about; things that will be remembered as long as America lasts.

And the other things—oh, who cares? Let's forget the whole squabble.

Most farmers would rather go ahead and let rabbits hurt crops than run the risk of amateur hunters.

Many a faint heart gets stronger in the faint fire light.

It doesn't matter how beautiful your girl's complexion is, don't wear it on your lapel.

The rain is no respecter of newly pressed suits.

Most men who curse Congress forget to vote.

FOOD AND THE ARTERIES

Physicians still entertain the theory that a high protein diet places an extraordinary strain on the kidneys, which organs eliminate the greater part of the by-products of protein metabolism. There may be some ground for this theory; it remains to be proved. There is little or no evidence to support the theory that an excess of protein food—such as meat, eggs or cheese causes or predisposes to hardening of the arteries, high blood pressure or other cardiovascular disturbances. There is better ground to assume that an excess of carbohydrates (starches and sugars) favors the development of heart and artery disease.
Particularly derogatory to meat, most of the arguments of medical and near medical authorities seem inspired by that vein of vegetarianism which is in all of us and which stands out prominently in the faddists or fanatics who look upon vegetarianism as a panacea. Unfortunately, the protagonists and followers of this fad have received considerable moral support from bacteriologists, physiologists and professedly educated dietitians, who have gleaned a few crumbs of knowledge of germ life, digestive functions or foods, develop delusions of omniscience and presume to tell the world about pathology. Metchnikoff, great as he was in the field of bacteriology, had but a puerile knowledge of pathology, and the famous savant's childish ideas stick out humorously from his popular writings. If a scientist of Metchnikoff's standing could err in his conceptions of the nature and cause of disease, how much more likely is the part-time professor of physiology or the bright young dietitian to bungle things which are difficult enough for the physician to deal with?

Some one sent me a clipping of a newspaper contribution on "colds"—whatever they may be—by a university professor who has the degree of A. M. and Ph. D. The professor blithely told the world that the excessive protein diet of the American people is a factor in the great prevalence of what the professor calls "common colds," and he clinched the matter by explaining that the meat and other protein food material putrefies in the intestine, from the action of the germs of putrefaction, and the poisonous substances formed by the putrefaction are absorbed into the blood, causing fatigue and so on, and the fatigue or malaise or mean feeling or whatever it may be that the hypothetical "poisons" produce. Just naturally lowers the victim's "resistance," so that he catches some disease—some vague, indefinite disease, some disease the professor carefully refrains from specifying. Now this line of hokum, coming from a university professor, a doctor of philosophy, probably impresses some people as scientific and reasonable; but there is a flaw or two in the professor's structure, for example, where does he get the notion that fatigue renders an individual more susceptible to disease? That is a fine old theory, but when put to the test of actual experiment it does not pan out satisfactorily; the fatigued animals refuse to develop disease more readily than controls.

But little flaws like that do not deter a physiologist, a bacteriologist or a dietitian when a vast public needs enlightenment.
Overeating, if you know what I mean, is no doubt a frequent cause of hardening of the arteries but in the great majority of cases carbohydrates and not protein is the food material which the big eater takes in excess.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Starting On Ground Floor
Our daughter aged 2 years has always been healthy. Now my husband wants to move to a four room English basement flat. It has two hardwood floors laid over cement. There is a furnace in the rear of the flat. Standing on the floor your waist line is about on a level with the sidewalk. I have heard so much about basements being damp and bad to live in, causing diseases like rheumatism, consumption and the like. (Mrs. W. F.)
Answer—All the things you have heard about the dampness of basements causing any disturbance of health are the product of morbid imagination. If the apartment gets as much skyshine or sunlight as an apartment on the second or higher floors, it is quite as healthful for you all to live in the basement.

Cut out the kidding. You've been guilty, just as all of us have.

And, it isn't fair.

If you've got a peeve, clear it up at the proper place and time. Don't drag it around with you. You only upset yourself—and everybody else.

ROTLLO

The Question Box

General Robert E. Lee said: "The thorough education of people is the most efficacious means of promoting the prosperity of the Nation." These words of the distinguished Southern General are none the less true now than when he spoke them. Q. Can you suggest a way of Cleaning a violin? M. P.

A. To clean guitars, violins, etc., mix equal quantities of linseed oil, turpentine, and water. Shake well to form an emulsion or cream. Rub the instrument with a cloth dampened in this cream, wipe dry and polish with a woolen cloth, chamois, or velvetene.

Q. What language is Pennsylvania Dutch? A. S. C.

A. This is correctly termed "Pennsylvania German". The language is a legitimate dialect of South Germany which, says Wm. Beidelman, has suffered and become corrupted by the introduction of English words and idioms.

Q. How far from Jerusalem is Bethlehem? R. E. W.

A. This village (now occupied almost entirely by Christians) is six miles south of Jerusalem. It was called by Micah "The least among the thousands of Judah."

Q. Please give the origin of the names of the various countries in South America. B. C. McV.

A. Argentina—Spanish, Republic. Brazil—from the Portuguese Brasa, a live coal, from the color of its dyewoods. Chile—probably from the Quechua "Chiri", meaning cold. Colombia—named from Christopher Columbus. Peru—probably from Piru, a noted Indian chief of that part of the country. Venezuela—so named on account of its supposed resemblance to the city of Venice. The early explorer discovered an Indian village in which the houses were built on piles.

Bolivia—named for Simon Bolivar, a South American patriot. Ecuador—the full name is Republica del Ecuador, meaning Republic of the Equator. Paraguay and Uruguay—both named for rivers; the former means "the golden water"; the latter "river of waters", referring to the numerous tributaries.

Q. How does the Belmont race track compare in length with the course on which the English Derby is run? J. C.

A. The length of the main track at Belmont Park is 1 1/2 miles, 6 feet, 3 inches, which compares with the English Derby—1 mile, 851 yards. The Derby is run, however, on the Derby Course which is open country and cannot be compared with a race course as laid out in this country.

Q. When was the first game of baseball electric light played? A. B. R.

A. It was played at Fort Wayne, Ind., June 2, 1883. The game was played by Fort Wayne and Quincy. Fort Wayne winning by a score of 19 to 11 in seven innings.

Q. What is the extent of the telephone business in the United States a sto capital, number of employees, number of phones and miles of wire? W. G.

TWO FLOORS OF GOOD THINGS TO WEAR

Adventures In The Library

GALSWORTHY ON THE SHORT STORY'S PATTERN

It is safe for a short story writer to pattern his tales after those that the editor wants, with a view of making enough money by giving people what they want so that he can retire from commercial writing and follow the dictates of his own artistic conscience? Perhaps most writers who really have something to say have asked themselves that question. Perhaps many others have answered in the affirmative and have acted on it.

John Galsworthy very emphatically answers in the negative. He thinks that the writer who begins by giving the editors and the people what they want will end by losing the power to give them anything else. Far better fail in your own way while honestly trying to write in your own way, he thinks, than make a great deal of money by "playing the market" in a literary sense.

EXPLAIN VIEWS

Two paragraphs in the preface to "Caravan," his book of collected short stories, express Galsworthy's theory of the short story pattern.

"The fiction market is supposed to require of short stories a certain pattern full of 'pep' and sting in its tail. The scorpion, it is said, is sufficiently irritated, will sting itself to death. So will the short story when worried by the demands of editors. The inveterate independent will resist these blandishments, go their own ways, imitate no one. They may achieve results as little to the taste of the market as are these tales, but at least they will fail after their own hearts and probably end by getting very high prices for their merchandise."

"Everyone that talks about Heaven ain't got there," and those who dutifully confection the short story to the sacred pattern of the hour may well become the company which shakes its tameness in hell. Independence is the state best worth having in life, and such as believe they can achieve it in their later tales by servitude to

But at least he has had the courage of his convictions and never used the prevailing pattern. During a large part of the period covered by "Caravan,"—1900 to 1925—the O. Henry pattern was much in demand. O. Henry's "with a sting in its tail." The particular type of story seems to have stung itself to death now but it ruled for many years even after O. Henry's death in 1910. But Galsworthy never used it. The pattern of the story that is "full of pep" is still with us; it is artificial zest makes of the fiction the magazines worthless as art. But this too Galsworthy has achieved.

He has paid the price of independence but he probably feels that the price was not too high.

BRIGHT COLORS

TROUBLE BIRDS

Feathers Serve as Protection from Enemies, Not as Lure for Mates

From Popular Mechanics.

That the feathers of male birds serve as a protection from enemies rather than as a lure for mates, is the theory of Dr. Austin H. Clark of the national museum.

Brilliant colors, he asserts, hide the wearers from other birds, the reason that the eye structure is radically different from that of human beings or other mammals, presents the landscape as a clear patchwork of all colors and sizes.

Therefore, objects which are conspicuous to the human observer would be difficult for a bird to see. In the bird's eye, Dr. Clark says, the lens is of a shorter focus, so that the image projected by it is almost wholly in one plane.

There is no blurred background in the vision of the bird, tending to make dull-colored objects less noticeable, as is the case in the man's sight. For that reason, birds of gaudy plumage are comparatively safe from detection by feathered enemies when they are on the tree top or among the branches, while the dull-colored female birds, staying close to her nest, where her plumage blends with the surroundings, is hidden from the gaze of prowling male enemies.

WAUPACA CAGERS TAKE 2, LOSE 1 ON RECENT TRIP

Whip Gilman and Marshfield but Bow to Owen City Basketball Team

Waupaca—The Waupaca basketball team has returned from a three days' trip with a record of two victories and one defeat. On the opening the local squad couldn't get started, the Owen City team taking the long end of a 24 to 16 score. The Waupaca boys put up a hard battle, and the crowd liked the game so well that a return engagement will be staged there within a short time.

On the following night the strong Gilman team met its first defeat of the season, the Waupaca quintet emerging from the battle with a 22 to 10 victory to its credit. The Gilman team furnishes the principal form of amusement to be enjoyed by the residents of this little mill town, and as it usually wins, is supported by excellent patronage.

In the final game of the trip the local sharpshooters sprung somewhat of a surprise when they took the Marshfield Company C team into camp by a score of 30 to 25. The first half ended 12 to 11 in favor of Marshfield, but some high class floor work, coupled with real basket shooting in the final minutes of the battle, put the game on ice for Waupaca.

The local team was composed of Pope, Madison, Durrant, Olson, and Hanson. The latter is a Waupaca man who toured with the Waupaca team last season. Madison and Pope were the heavy scorers for the local team. Olson and Durrant filled the guard positions in an efficient manner. In the Marshfield game Durrant showed a flash of real basketball when he baited in two from under the basket during a hot scrimmage.

Mrs. Jenny is a professional circus rider and her husband a ticket seller. Mr. Jenney has been with circuses since he was 14 years old and has worked with the Ringlings, Gollmar, Barnes, Golden and Sells-Floto circuses. In March they will relaunch the Sells-Floto show at Chicago where Mrs. Jenney will headline the riding bill.

ABSORBING PICTURE IS "MORALS FOR MEN"

The age old question of the double standard of morals for men and for women dramatically portrayed in an intensely absorbing drama "Morals For Men" suggested by "The Love Serum" by Gouverneur Morris at the New Bijou today, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The story graphically portrays the battle waged by a woman who leaving her old life behind, takes her place in society only to be haunted by an unconscious man who plays upon her fears of exposure and eventually drives her husband from her, and to despair. The man, the partner of her shady days, rehabilitates himself, marries and although his past becomes known, his wife refuses to let that interfere with her happiness.

Conway Tearle as the man and Agnes Ayres as the woman are seen in one of the best roles of their screen career. Miss Ayres characterization of the woman of the slums is ably portrayed, while the acting of Tearle first as the down-and-out and later as the man who came back, was a polished piece of screen acting.

After Others Fail! Don't Give Up

HE who hesitates is lost an old saying, but true, and it has kept many people invalids all their lives. If they had taken their case in its infancy and treated it as if they meant business, they would have averted that operation, its after effects, and the large fee of the surgeon. Not only in health, but the man who has always stayed in the hole and dared not venture out has never made a fortune. The step must be taken if you accomplish good health or wealth. If you have Rheumatism, Lumbago, Piles, Gout, Appendicitis, Gallstones, Stomach, Bowel, Skin Trouble, as Eczema, Pimples, Black Heads and Psoriasis, Kidney, Bladder, burning and frequent, Liver, Indigestion, Flatulence, Sour Eruptions, Heart Burn, Constipation, Catarrhal conditions of the bowels, Nervous Headache, all in feeling, cannot sleep, Chronic, Blood and Female Troubles. SCENE FROM "THAT ROYLE GIRL" AT FISCHER'S APPLETON MONDAY, TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY.

BECKLEY LOOKS FOR HOME BUILDING BOOM

A building season marked by the erection of many new homes in the city is foreseen by George H. Beckley, secretary of Appleton Building and Loan association, who bases his prediction on the number of applications for loans that have been received in the last few weeks. The association is enjoying the greatest prosperity of its history, and is prepared to help out practically all prospective home builders who make applications for loans, Mr. Beckley said. Assets have increased by $11,400 since the first of the year.

Menominees Divided On Power Plant Proposal

Leading members of the Menominee Indian tribe are emphatically opposed to any proposition, such as that of Representative E. E. Brown of Waupaca, to erect a dam and hydro-electric power plant at Kesheno Falls on the Menominee reservation, according to statements made by the chiefs when in Oshkosh recently. Chief Reginald Oshkosh, tribal chieftain of the Menominees, spoke before the League of Women voters and expressed himself decidedly against the proposal, but at the same meeting Mrs. Frank Keshene, wife of the chief of the Keshenas, said that she thought it would be a good thing if the water power on the reservation could be made of financial benefit to the Indians.

Opinion is divided at the reservation, according to Mrs. Keshene, and the Indians want a voice in the management of their affairs largely because of this question to be decided. If congress adopts Mr. Brown's measure the plant will be erected regardless of the Indians' wishes.

The argument used by Chief Oshkosh against the proposal was that the beauty of the falls would be destroyed. If a plant were erected below the falls, Oshkosh claimed, the water would be backed up and the rapids would disappear. The falls is the leading attraction and he asserts it would be a pity to destroy it for the sake of a power plant of doubtful profit producing possibilities.

It is thought that several outside organizations interested in keeping the reservation intact so far as its natural beauty is concerned, will take steps to oppose the move to build a power plant there.

Describes Water Steal

William George Bruce, Milwaukee, president of the Great Lakes Harbors association, and candidate for United States senator last year, has written and published a pamphlet on the present situation in regard to the Chicago water diversion case. The case is to be described by the United States in supreme court.

COMPARE COUNTY COSTS WITH WINNEBAGO BOARD

A special committee appointed at the November session of the Outagamie board of supervisors to go to Oshkosh and make a comparison of the expenditures of Outagamie and Winnebago-coes, will start functioning this week according to John J. Hantschel, county clerk. The committee was ordered to make report on the comparison at the February board meeting. Members of the committee are Mike Mack, Shiocton, chairman of the board; William Dock, Seymour; chairman of the county financial committee; John E. Hantschel, county clerk. The exact day for the Oshkosh trip has not been set.

Several rural schools of Outagamie county are preparing to enter the Better School Completion, open to all county schools of Wisconsin, and sponsored by the Wisconsin Farmer, according to A. G. Meating, county superintendent. The publication is offering four prizes, consisting of $500 worth of playground equipment to winners in the competition. The contest is for the purpose of stimulating interest in the improvement of rural schools as they are now. Two Outagamie county schools already have signed up for the state-wide contest. They are Meadow Grove school, district 2, Bear Creek,

FARMERS MEET IN MADISON TO STUDY PROBLEMS

Experts Ready to Tell Farmers and Their Wives How to Market Products

Madison—(AP)—Farmers' and Home Makers' week opened at the University of Wisconsin here Monday for the discussion of the economical production and orderly marketing of quality goods.

The program for the week includes a large number of addresses and discussions for the advice and instruction of farmers and their wives. B. H. AUSTRIANS IN NO CONDITION FOR "COMEBACK"

Woman on Lecture Tour to Raise $10,000 for Vienna Orphanage

Economic conditions in Austria are far worse than in Germany because the former country lacks raw material to carry on industries and has no money to buy either raw or manufactured products. Miss Leopoldine De Pauly, Vienna, Austria, declared Sunday evening in a talk at a meeting of Mount Olive congregation in the church parlors. Miss De Pauly is lecturing in churches of the Wisconsin and Missouri Lutheran synods in an endeavor to raise funds to maintain an Evangelical Lutheran Orphanage in Vienna, started by her mother, Mrs. K. De Pauly. When the orphanage was founded it had a sufficient endowment to keep it in operation from year to year, but the great depreciation in Austrian money has made the endowment practically useless, Miss De Pauly said.

Determined to continue the work, Miss De Pauly is touring this country giving lectures in an attempt to raise $10,000. An offering was taken at the meeting Sunday evening netted $100, and was one of the largest received by Miss De Pauly on her tour.

The lecture was accompanied by four reels of motion pictures showing Austrian child life, scenes in Vienna, and other scenic spots of the country.

Miss De Pauly said that Germany could offer no financial assistance to Austria as she needed all her money and resources for herself, after making such large contributions to France in indemnities. Austria has no money to develop her great natural resources such as water power on the Danube and other large rivers of the country.

Miss De Pauly will speak Monday evening at the Lutheran church of the Wisconsin synod in Menasha.

LAWYERS STUDY FACTORS IN U-TURN TEST CASE

A study of the constitutional factors involved in the legal test of Appleton's U-turn ordinance which was to have been held in municipal court this week, has deferred the date of the hearing at least a week, according to A. C. Rosser, city attorney. The case resulted from the arrest of A. J. Bauer, W. College-ave plumber, for making a U-turn within the limits fixed by the city ordinance. Bauer, backed by several other firms on W. College-ave, is contesting on the grounds that the ordinance is an inconvenience and a nuisance. Legality of the ordinance, possibility of amendment and such factors are under consideration.

FLORIDA BOOM SHOWING SIGNS OF SLACKENING

Not as Many Tourists in South and in January as in Previous Years

Menasha—Ben Plowright, who returned Sunday night from an 18 days trip to Florida and Havana, Cuba, said his party which consisted of Alderman A. W. Borenz, E. F. Dronbroski and Frank Kasal had no trouble in securing lodgings and food at moderate prices in the cities they visited. He claimed, however, there were high priced hotels in all the cities if a person wants to patronize them. At no place the members of his party registered did they feel they were overcharged for their accommodations.

Mr. Plowright said he got it from good authority there had been a slight slackening of the boom in Florida during the month of January. The number of tourists in some of the cities was not quite up to that of previous Januarys possibly due to cool weather for this time of the year. Summer heat prevailed at Havana, Cuba, he said.

As to construction work Mr. Plowright said new buildings were going up everywhere. His party made its first stop at St. Petersburg, where the members visited W. L. Wheeler and Chris Walters. From there it went to Tampa and thence to Havana. Returning it visited Key West and Miami. The trip covered both the west and east coasts.

Alderman Borenz returned home on an early Monday morning train and Mr. Dronbroski and Mrs. Kasal will return Monday evening. Mr. Plowright left the latter two in Chicago and the former in Milwaukee.

BUS SKIDS ON SLIPPERY HILL

Heavy Machine Narrowly Misses Canal When It Slides Backward

Neenah—Chris Grunski, Neenah, driver of one of the Iloman busses, experienced a thrill Sunday during the sleet storm when the bus which he was driving started backwards on the S. Oneida-st hill in Appleton and did not stop until it had reached the bottom. Grunski managed to get the machine to within 50 feet of the top of the hill when it started to slide. The brakes were set but this had no effect as the wheels skidded. The heavy bus gained momentum at every foot and by the time it was half way down the hill it had picked up considerable speed. Grunski managed to keep the machine in the road until it reached the turn near Prospect-st. Here it started to skid and crashed into the curb. It followed the curb to the bottom when it ran into a pile of cinders within five feet of the canal. There were no passengers in the bus at the time. Grunski took the Cherry-st bridge route the remainder of the day.

STEINWAY

THE INSTRUMENT OF THE IMMORTALS

PADEREWSKI PLAYS THE MINUET

AN APPRECIATION BY IGNACE J. PADEREWSKI

"... There is something in the history of the Steinway family to bring joy to the heart of every one who is devoted to his profession. The Steinway is an unmistakable product of love of profession, and to it I pay my tribute of high esteem and admiration."

From a letter to Steinway & Sons by Ignace J. Paderewski

PADEREWSKI'S TRIBUTE to the Steinway is echoed in the preference of every great musician. The Steinway is the piano of Hofmann and of Rachmaninoff. It is the companion of Fritz Kreisler and Mischa Elman; an inspiration to the songs of Schumann-Heink and Geraldine Farrar. To Damsch and Stokowski the Steinway "stands unequalled."

The music lover who knows the beauty of the Steinway concert grand should know also that its remarkable excellences are reproduced in pianos for the home. The qualities that have endeared the Steinway to the greatest artists are a part of every Steinway that is made.

Does not your every inclination tell you that you can find permanent musical happiness only in the Steinway? Need you delay this happiness when you know that the Steinway price is a reasonable one? And when the terms of payment are so generous that your purchase is relieved of any inconvenience?

You may purchase a new Steinway piano from us with a cash deposit of 10%, and the balance will be extended over a period of two years. Used pianos accepted in partial exchange.

MEYER-SEEGER MUSIC CO.

ESTABLISHED IN 1880
"The House that Reliability Built"

BEGIN HERE TODAY
BARBARA HAWLEY, 25, breaks with her fiancé, BRUCE REYNOLDS, and gets a job on the Appleton Telegraph, in order to see life.

ANDREW McDERMOTT, the managing editor, is a former friend of her father. BOB JEFFRIES, police reporter, proves friendly.

Barbara attends a newspaper dinner at the Lighthouse Inn. There she meets JEROME BALL, a man about town.

The sound of a shot comes from an inner room in the road-house.

NORMAN HOLLOWELL, a prominent broker, is found dead in the room. A suicide note is found in his pocket, but Barbara finds a woman's scarf under the table and gets a "scop" on the story.

She is sent to interview Mrs. LYDIA STACY, a prominent society woman, on a real estate project by Bruce's firm.

While Mrs. Stacy's maid reveals having sent a dress to the cleaners to have wine stain removed, Barbara connects the wine-stained dress with the road-house shooting of Hollowell.

She seals the tell-tale scarf in an envelope and later takes it home.

Barbara and Bob enjoy reading letters addressed to the love-lorn column by a girl named Viola, who has a beer-stained kimono, straight eyelashes and through the column, written by Barbara, has apparently succeeded in making an impression on her Romeo.

She attends a reception given by Mrs. Stacy to find Bruce is the guest of honor. He takes her home only to be told that past relations can never be resumed.

On subsequent day Barbara sees Bruce with a shadow-eyed creature who is smiling up at him childishly. The same afternoon she accepts the invitation of Jerome Ball, man about town, to take her home. Instead he drives into the country. They narrowly avoid a collision with the car of Jonathan Manners, senior partner in Bruce's firm, who pronounces Jerome drunk and takes them both home.

A few days later Mrs. Stacy calls to see McDermott.

GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXV

The door of McDermott's office was closed for a half hour.

Barbara sat at her desk, trying to Barbara, sat at her desk, looking up at every movement in the neighborhood of the door.

Once she rose and walked to the window, looking down at the sidewalk thronged with holiday crowds, Barbara could see rosy faces above great bundles of holly and other greens, and heard faint Christmas greetings in the streets. The wiggles across the streets was ablaze, and the little tea shop was swarming with late shoppers.

Barbara turned away from the scene, her mouth drooping. The telephone office showed no holiday signs.

It seemed to Barbara that Wells' her had even a more intense pallor than usual as he bent over his assignment book at the city desk. She looked around the room.

"Every man had something of the same indoor paleness, accentuated by the light that fell in a circle from a green shade over his head."

She walked back to her desk and sat down again. The love-lorn mail and accumulated in piles in the waste wire baskets. Proofs of Barbara's Christmas page for women lay across her typewriter. In the center of the page was a picture of a fat and laughing baby.

At length, McDermott's door opened. Barbara looked up. Lydia Stacy came out and paused to look back at McDermott, who stood in the doorway, smiling.

"There were words were inaudible to Barbara, but she caught the winning smile with which Lydia said her farewell. When his caller had gone, McDermott went back into the office and closed the door. Barbara heard a buzzer ring for Jimmy, the office boy."

A moment later Jimmy came to her. "Mr. McDermott wants to see you."

McDermott was waiting for her, reflectively chewing the end of a cigar. "Sit down, Miss Hawley," he said. "I want to talk to you."

Barbara looked at him wonderingly.

"You've been with us several months now," he said, "and I'd like to give you a better chance to show what you can do. Wells likes your work, but he hates to admit it. He isn't much for women on the staff, you know."

"I've tried to be as good a man as any on the staff," replied Barbara. "He didn't want to be friends until I think he's given in now."

"I've been talking with him," continued McDermott, "and we agreed that what the Telegraph needs is more human interest features. You're the best man on the staff for those. I know you don't like sob stories, but you know a good one when you see it. I decided that, the day you brought in the West Plains wreck stuff."

"I've told Wells I would make you feature editor and relieve you of everything else except the love-lorn column—on which, by the way, you're doing a good job."

Barbara's eyes opened very wide. McDermott looked amused. "A raise goes with it, Miss Hawley. What do you say?"

"Gorgeous," cried Barbara. "That's if I can do it."

"It won't do any harm to try, anyway. By the way, have you heard anything more about the Vale Acres cult? We ought to be watching that pretty closely. It's going to be either the biggest real estate cover up put sorry about the Lighthouse spree. That little posy has cost him a pretty penny, and Sinbad's not been having such good sliding lately, either. It's beginning to find that he can't even hold down a press agent job and be drunk half the time."

AT THE NEW BIJOU TODAY, TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY.

"Anyhow, it was nice of him," cried Barbara, "and I shall call him up and tell him so."

"I'll drive you home with it, if you're ready to go now," said Bob. Wells called after them as they were leaving. Down early in the morning, folks. We'll get out the final at ten-thirty, so you can all get home for Christmas dinner."

"The grind that never stops," crumbled Bob as he rang for the elevator.

Barbara awoke at five o'clock, to find her mother laying a fire on her bedroom hearth.

"Why, mumsy, dear, what made you get up at this impossible hour?" Mrs. Hawley straightened her body. Her face was white and strained. Barbara sat up and looked at her mother. "Are you ill, mother? You're very white."

"No, I'm all right. Didn't spend a very comfortable night, but nothing serious. I got up because I couldn't sleep, and also because I knew you had an especially early start to make this morning. Lie still a few minutes and the room will be warm enough to dress in."

Barbara crawled out of bed and ran across to the hearth rug. The flames were beginning to shoot up. On a stand by her dressing table the scented pommettia burned. Barbara glanced at it several times as she dressed. Once she stopped by the window and looked up the street.

At the breakfast table she chattered gaily over the waffles and sausages.

The doorknob rang and she started to her feet. "I'll go," said Mrs. Hawley. "You mustn't waste time." Barbara sat quite still until her mother returned with a telegram in her hand. Barbara's face brightened. She tore it open.

"Awfully sorry about the other day, old dear. Merry Christmas and a noisy Fourth of July."

"It's only Jerome Ball," she said dully.

Mrs. Hawley looked worried.

The Telegraph office at last showed some holiday symptoms. When Barbara entered several other members of the staff were already there, dressed in their best, displaying watches and fountain pens and exchanging little packages.

"Merry Christmas, everybody. You all look so sleek I hardly know you."

"Is that meant as a compliment or one of your best insults, Barbara?" asked Myers, the dramatic critic. "You look pretty sleek yourself." Barbara was wearing a soft blue that deepened the shade of her eyes.

"Here are your letters," called the city editor. It was the first time that Barbara had ever seen him wearing a coat.

She took the handful of papers.

There was the usual run of Civitas luncheons, psychology lectures, church notices and a death or two.

Barbara picked up a short clipping near the bottom of the pile. "Unexpected Weddings," said the headline.

She read the article:

"An unexpected wedding took place yesterday at the home of Rev. Thomas Wintie, when Bruce Reynolds, prominent local architect, was married to Miss Violetta Cranby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Cranby."

"Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds left immediately for Chicago, where they will spend the holidays, returning to Appleton about Jan. 4.

Mr. Reynolds is a member of the real estate firm of Manners, Stone and Reynolds. He was graduated from Wisconsin university in the class of 1918.

"Miss Cranby has been employed by the Gilbertson Paper Box Company."

Barbara read the item twice, three times. Her hand fluttered to her throat. She ran across the room and pulled down the latest file of the Telegraph.

Shuffling back through the pages, she began to read the love-lorn column.

A Safe Home 7% Wisconsin Income Investment

The Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light Company, with the State's approval, is now selling a new issue of $3,300,000 of 7% cumulative preferred shares, direct to Wisconsin investors.

The $3,300,000 received for the shares will be used, subject to the Wisconsin Railroad Commission's approval, in paying for additions to the company's income-producing public service properties.

The price of the shares is $100 each.

You can buy them, one share or more as you desire, paying all cash, or by paying $5 down and $5 monthly per share.

Dividends on paid-up shares, at the rate of 7% yearly per share, start from the day you buy them.

Interest at 7% is allowed on monthly payments, credited on the last payment, when shares are bought on that plan out of current savings.

If you find you cannot complete your payments you get back all you have paid, on demand, but without interest.

Buying either way, you get 7% yearly income on every dollar invested, from the day you invest with the company.

Dividends on these shares are paid, by checks mailed to shareholders, on March 1, June 1, September 1 and December 1, each year.

During its nearly thirty years in business, the company has paid every obligation on the due date in full. It has paid its preferred share dividends in cash and in full every three months for the last twenty-six years. It has paid cash dividends averaging 8% on its common shares every year for the last twenty-three years.

The business is managed by the common shareholders. Before they can pay any dividend on the common shares they must pay all preferred dividends in full, for every year, cumulatively.

Every dollar of the company's outstanding stock and bond capital is backed by more than a dollar's worth of income-producing property. The preferred shares, having a prior claim over the common shares to be paid off in full, in case the company ever sells the business, are backed by more than $200 of income-producing property for each $100 share.

State regulation does not permit the business to earn large profits. It does permit the earning each year of a reasonable profit, ample to assure regular payment of dividends.

Under State regulation, the company cannot sell a dollar's worth of new bonds or shares until the Railroad Commission has certified that the proposed new investment is necessary for the public service.

These facts, with the long, honorable and successful business record of the company, make these shares a very safe and desirable income investment for the savings of Wisconsin men and women.

The Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light Co. is Wisconsin's largest, strongest State-regulated public utility. It supplies substantially all of the electric service sold at retail and wholesale in the Greater Milwaukee district, with over 600,000 population. It sells electric power at wholesale, through its affiliated utilities and many municipal electric systems, serving a population of more than 700,000 in eastern Wisconsin and upper Michigan.

The company's property and business has grown in value from around $12,000,000 in 1897 to nearly $100,000,000 as of Dec. 31, 1925. New capital investments made this year will make Milwaukee Electric Wisconsin's first hundred-million-dollar public utility.

The Milwaukee district has grown steadily in population, volume of business and wealth, during those years. Milwaukee Electric's business and property have grown must faster than the district as a whole, because the electric service business is the fastest-growing large industry in the United States. Competent observers believe the industry has its greatest growth still ahead of it. City and town folks each year use more electricity, in both old and new ways. Farm folks are using it each year in larger numbers, and finding it even more convenient and desirable than city folks.

The company's gross income for 1924 was $22,559,912.15; for 1925, $23,992,653.17—a gain of $1,432,741.02. Net income for 1924 was $5,006,327.05; for 1925, $5,569,200.27—a gain of $562,874.22.

The number of electric service customers of the company Dec. 31, 1924, was 152,302; on Dec. 31, 1925, 171,698—a gain of 19,394. Number of street railway and bus passengers carried in 1924 was 201,832,551; in 1925, the number was 203,164,372—a gain of 1,331,821.

The company's condensed balance sheet, as of Dec. 31, 1925, showed the following:

SPENCER QUILTS TEACHING FIELD

Former Lawrence Instructor Resigns as Dean of University of Washington

One or more of the four quarters of the university.

Cowing to the present financial condition in which the university has been left by actions of the Washington state legislature the position left vacant by Dr. Spencer will not be filled, according to an announcement by Dr. Henry Ruzzello, president of the university.

Dr. Spencer left Appleton about seven years ago to become dean of the newly founded school of journalism of the University of Washington. VALLEY CITIES ORGANIZE BASEBALL LEAGUE

NEW CIRCUIT INCLUDES SIX NEW ENTRIES

Complete First Steps at Meeting at Hotel Conway Sunday Afternoon

First steps toward the organization of a home talent baseball league in the Fox river valley were completed at a meeting here at the Hotel Conway Sunday afternoon at which approximately 30 representatives from six cities attended.

The new circuit, to be known as the Fox River Valley Baseball League, will be composed of six teams, representing Appleton, Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, Neenah-Menasha, Kaukauna and Green Bay.

C. L. Pre Fontaine, Fond du Lac champion of home talent athletic organizations, was elected president, secretary and treasurer.

Several other cities, namely Two Rivers, Kohler and Plymouth, had expressed the desire to enter the new organization, but because of their distance from most cities in the loop, they were not granted admittance. Chilton and Campbellsport, members of the Eastern Wisconsin League last season, also would have been willing to be included but they were considered too small for sufficient financial support.

The new organization, which is to be strictly a home talent league, will be conducted under organized baseball rules, a salary limit of $45 per year for all its players, no player may be used outside of an eight-mile radius from each city. In the case of Appleton and Kaukauna each will draw players from between the two cities.

The schedule, although not yet drawn, will open about the middle of May. Ten home games, and 10 away from home will be played, all of which will be scheduled on Sundays and holidays. A standard admission price of 50 cents for grandstand seats and 35 cents for bleacher seats will be charged.

Only preliminary arrangements were completed Sunday. Adoption of rules, completion of the schedule, and other necessary steps will be taken up at another meeting here in about two weeks the exact date of which has not yet been named. Notice of the meeting will be sent, representatives several days before the next gathering by the president, Mr. Pre Fontaine.

The cities were represented as follows: Appleton C. O. Pates, Fond du Lac, C. L. Pre Fontaine, Oshkosh, Bruce N. Neenah-Menasha, F. C. Miller, Kaukauna, John Coppes, Green Bay, Joe Chusman.

HELEN MAY NOT MEET SUSANNE VERY SOON

Camp—(P)—When Helen Wills is to meet Susanne Lenglen in a battle across the nets for tennis supremacy cannot be foretold. Certainly it will not be during the present week and possibly not next week.

Miss Wills has definitely withdrawn from the singles in the Nice tournament commencing Monday and in which Susanne was a belated entrant. Miss Wills withdrew because a comparatively dead English ball will be in play, while she requires a hard with a "top" to it to show her speed. She says she may not play in the Carleton tournament, singles, next week if the English ball is used.

There was considerable comment when Miss Lenglen announced that she would play in the nice singles. Reference was made to the fact that Susanne did not announce her decision until after it had become known that Miss Wills had decided to draw out of the Nice tournament.

WISCONSIN CAGERS IDLE FOR FORTNIGHT

Chicago—(P)—While Wisconsin, leader in the Western conference basketball race, is idle during the coming fortnight, Indiana, Purdue, and Ohio state, tied for third place, will endeavor to strengthen their positions with a view of grabbing the top if the Badgers later are defeated.

Indiana makes its attempt Monday night as host to Iowa, with the Hoosiers favored to win on the basis of previous performances. Ohio state, which dropped from its tie with the Badgers as a result of its 21 to 20 defeat by Chicago Saturday, entertains its late foe Saturday. Friday Minnesota engages Iowa.

Purdue, whose captain George Spafford, leads the Big Ten scorers roster, does not get into action until Wednesday of next week at Illinois.

TRIANGLE CLUB BEATS BAPTIST PIONEERS

Sophomore Triangle club cagers defeated the Baptist Pioneers 25 to 5 in a one-sided game at the Y. M. C. A. gym Saturday afternoon. Roemer did most of the scoring for the Triangle five, getting six field goals. Weyenberg caged three. Knapp and Hieble scored the points for the losers.

The lineup: Sophomore Triangle—Weyenberg, Roemer, forwards; Warner, center; Roth and Stedie, guards. Baptist Pioneers—Heinle and Quale, guards; Trontlage, center; Heible and Knapp, forwards.

WOMEN BOWLERS WILL RECEIVE GREETINGS

In order to stimulate participation in the seventh annual tournament of the Wisconsin Women's Bowling association which will open at Arcade alleys in Appleton Feb. 4, the Appleton Chamber of Commerce is sending out greetings of welcome. The little packet contains a program of the tournament, an official badge, a souvenir postcard with a picture of the alleys to send to the "folks back home," and a package of Scolding Locks hairpins made in Appleton. The postcard even bears a message in script telling folk at home what a fine town Appleton is so that all the sender needs to do is sign his name and affix the stamp. With the packet goes an invitation from the Scolding Locks Hairpin company to visit its plant.

BILLY EVANS SAYS

SAFETY FIRST CHAMPS In these days of non-fighting champions, the names of Harry Greb and Paul Berlenbach stand out in bold relief.

It takes mighty big purses to lure a majority of the champions into the ring. At all other times they have more stipulations in their contract than a Grand Opera prima donna.

No-decision bouts are most favored by the titleholders. If the bout is to be a decision affair, they insist the challenger comes in overweight so the championship will not be at stake.

Some of the safety first champions are even more careful they receive the right to name the referee.

Not so many years ago one of these hand-picked referees gave three different decisions in the same bout, and after leaving town hurriedly wiped in a fourth verdict that retained the crown for the champion.

It is just such things as these that have kept any number of the modern champions from being idolized after the manner of the old timers.

The champion in any sport event is supposed to be supreme. If so, he should have no timidity about defending his honors. That doesn't go for the fight game.

TWO REAL FIGHTERS Harry Greb and Paul Berlenbach are in striking contrast to the run-out of the mme champions in the other classes.

Greb is the marvel of the prize ring. He has been fighting for 13 years. Before he won any boxing titles he was known as the "Fighting Fool."

Never too busy to fight he didn't fuss much about the weight of his opponents. He took them on from the middleweight through the light heavyweight division to the full grown heavyweight and in most cases gave away weight.

The biggest year was in 1919 when he, most averaged a bout a week, most of his opponents being fighters of class.

Winning a title didn't change his views on the fight game. He has kept right on meeting every one dug up by the promoters.

Paul Berlenbach after scoring 23 knockouts is stopped by Jack Deane in four rounds. Paul started right over again.

Fifteen months later he was the light heavyweight champion of the world as a result of his victory over Mike McFigue.

Did Berlenbach pass up Delaney because of the previous knockout? Not Paul. He risked his title within six months after winning it against his most formidable challenger, getting the decision in 15 rounds.

STRIKING CONTRAST Just run down the list of champions and see what they have done and then look at the understated popularity of Greb and Berlenbach.

Mickey Walker has the welter title in the old moth balls most of the time. After much persuasion he gave Dave Shade his chance and had a narrow escape. It has probably made him more careful than ever.

There are some people who don't know that Kid Kaplan is the featherweight champion and Phil Rosenberg tops the bantams. They seldom break into print.

Both these fighters recently visited the coast and found the going mighty tough out there. Only the fact that they took every precaution made it possible for them to return with their titles.

"Rocky" Kansas who won the lightweight title from Jimmy Goodrich is waiting for the summer to roll around and with it a fancy purse. Perhaps Rocky is more than wise, it may be his only opportunity to cash in on his championship.

Jack Dempsey hasn't fought for nearly three years.

Fighting is no longer a sport, but a business proposition with the champions.

LAWRENCE FIVE PREPARING FOR MARQUETTE TILT

Defeat at Ripon Urges Denny Team to Greater Efforts This Week

Goaded into greater efforts by their close defeat at the hands of Ripon college basketballers last Friday night, Coach Denny's Lawrence college quintet Monday turned its attention to preparation for the tussle with Marquette University of Milwaukee here next Thursday night.

Coach Frank J. Murray's men are still smarting from recollections of the two decisive trouncings administered their last season at the hands of Lawrence, and they entertain high hopes of downing the Blue clad warriors in the impending struggle.

The blue and gold netters have just resumed strenuous training after a fortnight's layoff because of semester examination, and Coach Murray has laid out a strenuous schedule for his men this week. Following the Lawrence game, the Milwaukeeans will engage Pat Page's Butler college quintet of Indianapolis at Milwaukee Saturday night.

Marquette started out at a fast pace this season, showing great promise by turning back Milton, Milwaukee Normal and Minnesota without much trouble.

Then they slumped, losing to Wisconsin, Iowa, Georgia Tech, Mercer Millikan and St. Louis university. They succeeded however in gaining praiseworthy victories over Vanderbilt and Creighton.

Although displaying fine teamwork and a good knowledge of the ticks of the game, the Murraymen have stumbled in game after game because of a bad eye for the basket. Long shots and short shots, racy shots and hard shots, have been missed with annoying regularity and it is only in the last few days that the Marquette cagers have shown something of their old form in scoring. Consequently, they hope to do better against Lawrence and Butler this week.

Coach Denny, meanwhile, will resume the task of perfecting his machine. The team is still below par when it comes to defending its opponent's hoop, and it is Coach Denny's earnest desire to remedy this weakness. The scoring ability of the Blue men also faltered as was apparent at Ripon. Only two men, Zussman and Heidemann, located the net twice. The team made six out of 10 tries from the free throw line.

The order of ranking in the Lawrence Intel I. D. tournament, League 1, named, unchanged after Saturday's game, the Sig Eps and Phi Kaps remaining tied for first place, the Beta Sigma and the Phi Kaps tied for second honors, the Delta Sigma and the Phi Kaps for third position, and the Theta and Phi Taus in the cellar, exactly as they stood a week ago.

None of Saturday's battles were close except when the Phi Kaps byes in the league pulled a surprise and held the Sig Eps, leaders, to an 8 to 4 count. The Beta Sigma doubled the Phi Taus 26 to 6, the Delta Sigma away with the Delta Sigas 24 to 7, and the Phi Kaps swamped the Theta Sigas to the tune of 31 to 7.

Kimberly firm forms punch ball league. A new noon hour activity organization to be known as the "Punch Ball league," which is composed of men from the various departments of the Kimberly Clark Co., has been formed.

Town team whips south five in Brokaw league. Although the dope favors the South-erners to take the bacon in the Brokaw league, the Town team pulled a surprise last week by tumbling them 10-6 bringing the local boys up to second place. The teams play on Tuesday and Thursday nights.

Counting 1,117 for their three games, the Ganzen and G Jimos won first place in the couples tournament at Arcade alleys Sunday. Their counts were 371, 424 and 352. Second place was won by M. Tornow and C. Tor now with 1,080 on games of 312, 417 and 351, while third honors were awarded E. Dunn and H. Peck, who compiled 320, 380 and 338 for a 1,047 total. First prize was $4, second $3, and third $1.50.

Eight couples bowled. The scores of the others were: A. Goldbeck and J. Cavine, 908, L. Dunn and W. Verbeck, 933, S. Roud bush and J. Hart, 919, M. and M. Austin, 956, L. Jones and Henry Strutz, 991.

THE WATER WIZARD KEEPS IN SHAPE

Johnny Weissmuller and swim ming records are synonymous. Mention of one brings out the other. This youthful titanic holds more water marks than any other individual. Weissmuller as you doubtless know, leaped to the front rapidly. He started swimming as a kid. One day Walter Bachrach saw the youngster in action, was impressed, and took Johnny in hand. From then on Weissmuller started breaking marks. And he kept on doing it every year. When he was commencing his record-making activities, he found it a tough matter to stick to the stick training stuff. He liked his ice cream and pie too well. After every race he was ready for a nice dessert. Weissmuller's greatest rival at present is Arne Borg, the sensational Swede. Borg has been stepping along fast and during the past year has crowded the great Weissmuller in several races.

Strange as it may seem, Weissmuller and Borg are the greatest of friends. They are pals, in fact. Both are members of the Illinois A. C. This winter they have been touring the country giving exhibitions. They have hung up new marks on several of their appearances, too. Weissmuller is shown in the above photo during an exhibition stay at the famous Coral Gables resort, located just outside of Miami, Fla. Weissmuller holds the same place in the swimming fraternity as does Cobb in baseball and Gange on the gridiron. That, by the way, is praise aplenty.

BLUE SKATERS WILL FORM HOCKEY TEAM

Lawrence ice men got together for the first time Saturday morning at the Whiting Field rink. Six potential hockey stars practiced stick work, passing and carrying the puck. The pucksters who turned out for the first practice were Adolph, Hall, Mueller, Moore, Schmit, and Starr.

Hereafter practice will be on Tuesday afternoons and Saturday morning. Hutton, a former Canadian hockey player, will coach the teams. Present plans provide for four teams, which will play each other. From these four teams, the all-college team will be selected to meet other teams and probably Fox river valley aggregations.

Four Champions Failed To Cash In On Honors

NORTHERNS GET 2,999 PINS IN MENASHA MATCH

Roll One of High Team Scores of Season to Take Inter-city Meet

One of the highest team scores to be rolled in the Fox river valley this season was registered by the Hotel Northern pin squad Saturday evening in a special match with the Menasha Records at Menasha when the local five sent 2,999 pins crashing into the pit for a two-game victory over the Records. Games of 987, 953 and 1,029 accounted for this credible score.

To accumulate such an unusual total, four members of the Hotel team exceeded the 600 count. The onslaught was led by A. Jimos, anchor man, who counted 636 on games of 216, 185 and 235. R. Resch was not far behind, getting 183, 205 and 243 for a 631 series.

B. Groth, lead off man, added 615 to the score with games of 216, 235 and 164 and Zimmerman shot 198, 207 and 202 for a total of 607. M. Brauer, who usually has his manner under better control, was in the throes of an off night, something which all bowlers experience, and the best he could do was a 510 count. His games were 174, 151 and 185.

If the Northerners maintain the form they have displayed lately when they take the dices at Milwaukee next Saturday in the state pin meet, they should cause an uproar in the standings of the leaders.

The Menasha Records, which likewise is composed of experienced pin knights, totaled 2,838 pins, a score which any team could be proud of. They passed the 1,000 mark by six pins in the first game, defeating the Northerners by 23 pins.

Three members of the Menasha team also did better, than 600 for the series, Tuchscherer getting 638, Ostertag 623 and Maxew 603.

Hotel Northern Won 2, Lost 1—R. Groth 216, 235, 164, 615, N. Brauer 174, 151, 185, 510; Zimmerman 198, 207, 202, 607, R. Resch 183, 205, 243, 631, A. Jimos 216, 185, 235, 636. Totals 987, 953, 1029, 2999.

Deputy Sheriffs Raid Appleton Establishment and Arrest Two Women

An order to show cause before Feb. 5 why an establishment owned by her should not be padlocked has been served on Helen Schilling, proprietress of a disorderly house, and warrants for her arrest as well as that of Nettie Earle, an alleged inmate of the house, have been issued as the result of a raid by Deputy Sheriff Earl Schwartz and a group of deputies at about 11 o'clock Saturday night. The house is on N. Appleton street to the rear of the Chicago and Northwestern freight depot.

Another woman, Myrtle King, was found in the house, but upon her plea that she had only arrived in the city on Thursday she was allowed to go free and ordered to leave the city immediately. She appeared only too glad to leave and was on her way before midnight. Nettie Earle and Helen Schilling "scrapped up" $200 in cash between them and were released on that amount of bail. Preliminary hearing in their cases was set for Feb. 5, and they declared that they would plead not guilty and would fight the case. Meanwhile the owner must show cause why the place should not be closed before Friday. Nettie Earle is charged with being the keeper of the house, besides being an inmate.

Markets TREND OF MARKET CONTINUES HIGH

Stocks of Companies With Merger Rumors Sell Actively at Opening

New York—(AP)—Mixed price movements marked the resumption of stock trading Monday but the main trend of the market was higher. Initial buying activity centered largely in the stocks of companies in which merger developments are understood to be pending such as Postum Cereal, California Packing and Ward Baking B. High grade rails such as Union Pacific also were in demand.

The strength of high priced shares exerted a big influence in stopping speculative selling when the renewal rate on call loans was advanced to 4 1/2 per cent with subsequent loans at five. Dupont climbed 6 1/2; Brooklyn Edison 5 1/2; Nash Motors; Detroit Edison and South Porto Rican sugar 3 1/2 and General Motors 3. Chesapeake and Ohio was an outstanding weak feature, losing 2 points.

With the recognized leaders moving sluggishly, interest in the early deal was confined to rallies in several specialties. Prospect for several huge combinations of food companies stimulated buying of these securities. Ward Baking B responded to announcement that the Ward interests had formed a $500,000,000 food products corporation while California Packing and Postum Cereal, which have been linked in merger rumors, moved up 2 to 3 points. Other strong spots were Allied Chemical, Gold Dust, Dupont, Panola Players, International paper and American Zinc preferred, with the Wabash issues joining the advance in the rails. Reactionary tendencies however, cropped out in Radio, American Woolen, Remington Typewriter and Pisk Rubber. A rise in sterling to $4.86 1/2, the highest demand rate since the war, featured early trading in the foreign exchange.

The closing was irregular. Total sales approximated 1,500,000 shares.
